Intelligent Transport System on Mysuru-Bengaluru 10-lane Highway

Hi-tech touch for commuter safety

- 24x7 Central Command Centre with LED screens to monitor and relay real-time data
- To check lane discipline; Medical help to reach within minutes in case of accidents

The access-controlled Highway will turn intelligent with sensors, cameras and control room.

Mysuru, June 22 (RK&BCT)- In an attempt to minimise traffic woes and enhance the safety of commuters on the Mysuru-Bengaluru 10-lane Highway, an AMR sensor-based Intelligent Transport System (ITS) will be implemented before the Highway is thrown open to traffic.

This will enable authorities to control traffic as well as increase road discipline. Besides, it will help monitor the stretch at all times as well as mitigate accident-like situations and reach accident spot within minutes.

Anisotropic Magneto-Resistive (AMR) sensor-based ITS will enable the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) which is building the Highway to get real-time data on vehicle movement on the Expressway.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, B.T. Sridhar, NHAI Project Director, said that the intelligent system will be implemented all along the route. Sensors, cameras and night-vision gadgets will be placed at a 2-km interval along the Highway.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Regret is a fundamental part of human life. It is natural for us to have regrets for all the sins of omission and commission that we are guilty of. It is easy along the journey of life to be carried away by the everyday humdrum and its several preoccupations. But as the years mount and old age creeps in, the aftermath can be a painful process of self interrogation. Moral regrets are those that are caused by poor behaviour or compromising on the values that we have prided ourselves on.

Wisdom lies in understanding that the moment of weakness is not worth the pain that follows. True remorse is never just a regret over consequence, it is a regret over the motive. Why have I done what I have done? Have I acted in good faith?

Regrets arise when we neglect people who helped establish our own sense of worth and fullness or hurt others, which is so unequivocally wrong that on reflection we are filled with a feeling of devastation. In the solitude of the mind as we reminisce people and events that have long gone, we realise the wrongs we have committed; the conscience we have stilled. And the transcendental questions that worry us: Have we loved enough? Have we forgiven enough? Have we forgotten enough? Have we accepted the good and the bad with equal grace? Have we dared to raise our voices or have we turned our faces away when things did not seem quite right? All this begets regret and with it, expiation a sense of redemption and transformation into a better self.

There are also regrets over personal choices made during our life's journey down a particular road, a poignant reminder of "all the roads not taken". It is in our hidden encounter with our regrets that we find ourselves. Regret makes us more humane; it is the survival tool of humankind. Regret is a reflection of what most people value in their lives; regrets reflect our own inner voices.

Probably the ultimate dog house money can buy

Tokyo: A 1,50,000 dollars architectural wonder built exclusively by hand by a Japanese palace carpenter, is probably the ultimate dog house money can buy.

Cultural Property Structural Plan Co., Ltd. is an Osaka-based company that specialises in the preservation and repair of cultural property buildings and seismic reinforcement design. It employs experts in traditional architecture who use centuries-old shrine and temple-building techniques. Recently, the Japanese company announced a new project, codename 'Inuden', which involves building an exclusive dog house out of high-quality natural materials, using the same traditional techniques used on Japanese shrines, temples and castles.

Stingray dubbed world's largest freshwater fish

Cambodia: A 661-pound giant stingray caught in a Cambodian river is believed to be the largest freshwater fish ever encountered by researchers.

Scientists with the Wonders of Mekong research project said they were installing underwater receivers to track migratory fish in the Mekong River in northern Cambodia and had asked local fishermen to get into contact if they made any significant catches.

The group was contacted by a 42-year-old fisherman who landed a 661-pound giant stingray in the Stung Treng area. The scientists paid the fisherman for his catch and released the stingray after they weighed, measured and tagged the fish.

The stingray took the record for largest freshwater fish from a 646-pound Mekong giant catfish caught in Thailand in 2005.

Wonders of Mekong researcher Zeb Hogan said "You have a fish that's now the record holder for the world's largest freshwater fish, and we know little about it."

Plastic, garbage, cows and residents of Vijayanagar

Sir,

This is a picture from Vijayanagar 4th Stage, Mysuru, that illustrates indifference to environmental degradation by manufacturers and consumers of plastics. There seems to be an over-dependence on the "authorities" to keep the area clean each day even as we the residents of Vijayanagar dump plastic and other waste on pristine green and open areas each day.

Please don't turn a blind eye to the manner in which you dispose your daily garbage and plastics. It has a disastrous impact on our environment, degrades the soil, poisons grazing animals and soon all of us as people. Please reach out to the authorities in the MUDA or the Health Officer, Bogadi Town Panchayat for guidance on garbage segregation and disposal. They are adept at dealing with such issues.

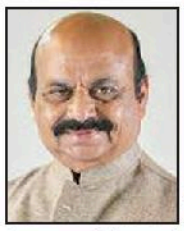
Incident-free PM Modi's visit to Mysuru

District Officials, Police heave a sigh of relief



Basavaraj Bommai

Praveen Sood

Dr. Bagadi Gautham

Dr. Chandragupta

Mysuru, June 22 (RK&BCT)- Preparations for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit began 20 days in advance with the upgradation of infrastructure, beautification, greening and of course, the cleaning of the perennially-clogged drains and rectifying pothole-ridden roads all along the PM's route.

But the tense part was his visit per se as elaborate arrangements and backup plans had to be made to ensure that there is no lapse. Though the PM's Mysuru visit was only for about 18 hours from his arrival in an IAF helicopter at the Oval Grounds to his departure at about 10.30 am from the Mysore Airport, the Mysuru District Administration and the Police were on their toes to make it an incident-free visit.

Though the inner layers of the PM's security lie with the Special Protection Group (SPG) and the commandos from the National Security Guards (NSG), the outer security layer had to be provided by the State Police along with taking the decisions on routes, entry and exit points, logistics, personnel and also contingency plans.

Security at 8 places

The PM's itinerary had eight places including Chamundi Hill and the Suttur Mutt. Along with the PM, his entourage of security personnel, and teams that came to Mysuru before the PM's actual visit had to be taken care of including their food and accommodation needs.

This apart, security had to be ensured at the events that were held in open field locations and also on the routes where the PM's cavalcade would travel in the night on June 20 from Maharaja College to Suttur Mutt, Suttur Mutt to the Chamundi Hill and from Chamundi Hill to Hotel Radisson Blu Plaza.

The next day the itinerary was from the hotel to Mysore Palace, Exhibition Grounds, back to the Palace for breakfast and then to Mysore Airport where the PM's special IAF plane was waiting.

CM, DG compliment

The elaborate arrangements made by the District authorities and the Police at all the venues and roads earned the accolades from Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai. The CM also complimented the people of Mysuru, members of various associations and NGOs for tirelessly working to make the PM's visit a smooth and successful affair.

Director-General and Inspector General of Police (DG-IGP) Praveen Sood complimented the senior and junior Police officers and the constabulary for the feat who ensured that there were no lapses in any manner. "The credit must go to them," Praveen Sood told Star of Mysore.

Big challenge

Mysuru Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. Bagadi Gautham who led the overall preparations as the head of the district said that it was a big challenge to ensure that the PM's visit passed peacefully. "Ensuring security at eight places simultaneously is not an easy task. Every one of us has contributed. Many roads have got a new look and even the decorations and illuminations were impressive and Mysuru wore a bridal look. The good coordination between the elected representatives and the officers has resulted in success," he said.

Teamwork proved a success

City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta attributed the success of the VVIP visit to teamwork, better planning and implementation. "We have achieved this in coordination with the SPG and the suggestions given by the ADGP and DG-IGP were implemented. In addition to the 1,500 personnel from the Mysuru Police, we had summoned forces from other districts too to ensure that there are no lapses," he said.

Civil, CAR, Wireless, Special Branch, Intelligence Bureau, State Intelligence, Anti Naxal Force, KSRP and additional forces kept a hawk-eye vigil at all 8 places and along the route of Suttur Mutt and Chamundi Hill. One team was fully dedicated to monitoring Chamundi Hill with the help of night-vision drones, he added.

After VVIP's visit, now the clean-up act

Mysuru, June 22 (PM&BCT)- Just hours after Prime Minister Narendra Modi left Mysuru yesterday following his Lead-Yoga performance at the Mysore Palace, the clean-up act began in the city to remove flex banners and posters that were erected to welcome him.

In their enthusiasm to welcome the PM, party workers had erected flex banners, posters, party flags and Yoga Day hoardings with the PM's photos all along the route from the Mysore Airport to the Maharaja's College Grounds, Suttur Mutt Road and Chamundi Hill Road. Even the areas and Circles surrounding the Mysore Palace were filled with buntings.

After the Yoga performance and a visit to the Dasara Exhibition Grounds where a Yoga Expo was organised, the PM had breakfast with the erstwhile Mysore royal family. He left for New Delhi on a special flight from the Mysore Airport.

As soon as the PM left Mysuru, workers from the Mysuru City Corporation and banner contractors were seen downing their buntings and hoardings. In a press release, Mysuru-Kodagu MP PratapSimha said that all the posters and banners would be removed and the city will be back to its original shape.

He said that none of the flex banners will be retained and all of them would be removed including the ones that were erected on the routes that were not taken by the PM's cavalcade like the Hunsur Road till Yelwal and also on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway. The plastic and cloth waste were loaded onto vehicles and were taken to the segregation plants for disposal, he added.

A memento etched in golden letters

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha presenting the memento crafted with pure gold foil by Navrathan Darla, Proprietor of 'World of Silver,' Mysuru, to Prime Minister Narendra Modi after Yoga performance at Mysore Palace in city on June 21 as part of International Day of Yoga (IDY). The memento, etched in golden letters along with pictures of Modi performing Yoga and magnificent Mysore Palace, is 30 inch wide and 17 inch tall. It bears Rig Veda's Isha Bhashya Shloka and a note in Hindi thanking the PM for choosing Mysuru to celebrate the 8th IDY — 'Mysuru is the epicentre of Yoga and many Yoga Gurus from here are the reason behind yoga spreading far and wide. Learning about the importance of the city and choosing it to celebrate the 8th International Day of Yoga is a matter of pride to all of us. We honestly appreciate your love for Mysuru.'

Siddharamaiah accuses PM of opportunistic politics

Bengaluru, June 22 (KMS& DM)- Maintaining that Prime Minister Modi had failed to visit the State even once when it reeled under natural calamities for three consecutive years, Opposition Leader and former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah accused Modi of opportunistic politics as he visited Karnataka now with an eye on next year's Assembly polls.

Addressing a press meet here on Monday, Siddharamaiah charged Modi of not having any concerns for people of State who were badly hit by floods, landslides and other natural disasters.

Claiming that four of the five Public Sector Banks having roots in Karnataka were merged with loss-making Public Sector Banks of other States only for the sake of overcoming their losses and nothing else, he alleged that this move of the Centre is a great insult to crores of Kannadigas. The collective assets of these four banks (State Bank of Mysore, Corporation Bank, Vijaya Bank and Syndicate Bank) stood at Rs. 317 lakh crore, he said and wondered where have all these assets gone now. He argued that the merger of Banks had led to job losses for Kannadigas.

Maintaining that it was the Congress Government led by him that initiated the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway expansion and establishment of Dr. Ambedkar School of Economics at Bengaluru, Siddharamaiah accused the present BJP Government of falsely taking credit for this.

GTD submits charter of demands to PM

Mysuru, June 22 (SBD&DM)- Seeking to encash the visit of Prime Minister Narendra Modi to the city, Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD) submitted a memorandum containing a four-point charter of demands to him on Monday.

Devegowda, who was one among the guests to receive Modi at the Oval Grounds where the PM landed from Bengaluru to take part in the Maharaja's College Grounds programme on Monday evening, submitted his memorandum to the PM after welcoming him.

The demands included announcing Metro rail for Mysuru in order to ease growing traffic congestion in the city, which is fast going the Bengaluru way, improvement of civic amenities and betterment of other infrastructure in Mysuru, development of Railway Corridor that aims at providing better connectivity between Mysuru and cities in Tamil Nadu and Kerala and completion of all pending irrigation and drinking water projects in the State, considering the face that Karnataka is a crucial provider of food.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, Health Minsiter Dr. K. Sudhakar, MLAs L. Nagendra and S.A. Ramdas, In-charge Mayor Sunanda Palanetra and others were among those who welcomed the PM.

Local, Gujarati breakfast dishes impress PM Modi

Mysuru, June 22 (BCT)- An elaborate spread of local and Gujarati cuisine arranged for breakfast at the Mysore Palace on June 21 impressed Prime Minister Narendra Modi and he complimented the chefs for their culinary skills.

The Prime Minister had accepted the invitation of Pramoda Devi Wadiyar to come to the Mysore Palace for breakfast when he attends the International Yoga Day celebrations in Mysuru. Pramoda Devi Wadiyar had personally written to the PM, extending the invitation.

After performing Yoga with thousands of people at the Palace, Modi later headed to inaugurate the 'Innovative Digital Yoga Exhibition' at Dasara Exhibition Grounds. He drove back to the Mysore Palace for breakfast prepared for him by A.V.S. Nagaraj, a reputed caterer from Bengaluru. Modi was accompanied by Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Nagaraj, who owns 'A.V.S. Nagaraj Cooking Contractors' at Gandhi Bazaar in Bengaluru, said that Pramoda Devi Wadiyar had requested him to prepare traditional dishes of Mysuru and Gujarat (in case the PM prefers them). Droupadi Murmu

Bhubaneswar, June 22 (Agencies)- Former Jharkhand Governor Droupadi Murmu this morning swept the floor of the Shiva Temple in Rairangpur of Mayurbhanj district before offering prayers after being nominated by the BJP-led NDA as its Presidential candidate. She has been provided Z-Plus category security by the Centre.

BJP Chief J.P. Nadda announced Murmu's name yesterday. Murmu is likely to file her nomination papers on June 25. Murmu, who hails from Odisha, becomes the first woman tribal leader to contest for the country's highest constitutional post. Before this, she also holds the record of being the first tribal woman Governor in the country.

Accompanied by friends and some family members, 64-year-old Murmu visited the temples of Lord Jagannath, Hanuman and Shiva in Rairangpur, the place from where she was first elected as an MLA in 2000.

Born on June 20, 1958, in Odisha in a simple Santhal tribal family, Murmu started her political career in 1997. She was elected Councillor of the district board in Rairangpur in 1997.

She has been MLA twice in Odisha and also got a chance to work as a Minister in the Naveen Patnaik Government. Murmu was also awarded the Neelkanth Award for Best Legislator by the Odisha Legislative Assembly.

She was sworn in as the Governor of Jharkhand on May 18, 2015. Her five-year term as Governor was to end on May 18, 2020, but was automatically extended due to the non-appointment of a new Governor due to the ongoing COVID pandemic.

After the completion of her tenure, she left the Jharkhand Raj Bhavan for her village in Odisha's Rairangpur on July 12, 2021, and is living there since then.

"So far, we have not implemented the system but are in the process of doing so. Funds for the system will be obtained under additional works and a traffic control room with giant LED screens will be set up for 24x7 monitoring. Information will be relayed from the Central Command Centre or control room in case there are accidents so that help can be reached to the spot within minutes," Sridhar said.

It is not possible to manually inspect every part of the Highway. Use of technology is economical and will enable the NHAI to get multi-dimensional views on a real-time basis.

AMR sensor-based Intelligent Transport System is an Artificial Intelligence (AI) application connected with high-tech cameras, sensors as well as other traffic violation detection systems such as lane cutting and overspeeding installed on Highways.

"This will minimise the number of accidents and will help us regulate and effectively manage the traffic. The designing of the system will be done in such a way that it provides real-time updates to the Central Command Centre. It will also help us legally in case there are any Police investigations. The system has been implemented in a couple of Highways in India and we will study them before implementing it here," Sridhar added.

Jana-Vana Sethuve connects remote areas

Initiative aims at bridging the gap between tribal hamlets and developed localities

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, June 22- On the cusp of being declared a Tiger Reserve, the Male Mahadeshwara Hills (MM Hills) Wildlife Sanctuary has launched the first-ever 'Jana-Vana Sethuve,' multi-purpose vehicles which act as ambulance, school bus, ration vehicle and conveyance vehicles for remote villages within the boundaries of the Sanctuary and also around it.

The vehicle service has been launched with an aim of providing last-mile connectivity to forest dwellers who are cut off from mainstream life. At present, they depend mostly on foot or bullock carts for transport from one place to another.

This is for the first time that the Forest Department and the Chamarajanagar District Administration have taken such an initiative, realising the desperate need to provide connectivity to the remote areas. Over 15 tribal hamlets with nearly 5,000 people will benefit from the initiative.

As part of the initiative, four multi-purpose vehicles have been launched to connect these tribal hamlets. A majority of the people who live in these remote areas are tribals and development is miles away from their houses.

RS. 56 LAKH FROM DISTRICT MINERAL FUND

Spread over 920 sq. km, the MM Hills Wildlife Sanctuary has 25 villages with it and at its fringes. The funds for the project amounted to Rs. 56 lakh and was released from District Mineral Fund. The vehicles were recently handed over to Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF), M.M. Hills Wildlife Sanctuary V. Yedukondalu by Chamarajanagar Deputy Commissioner Charulata Somal.

The 'Jana-Vana Sethuve' aims to bridge the distance between the remote tribal hamlets and the major human habitation around M.M. Hills. "This is part of the outreach programme by the Chamarajanagar District Administration and the Forest Department. It will be implemented on all those routes where there is no public transportation. The vehicles will function 24X7," DCF Yedukondalu told Star of Mysore.

A BOON FOR PREGNANT WOMEN, SCHOOL CHILDREN

Many of the villages are situated along steep gradients and are not easily accessible. As a result, patients and pregnant women had to be physically carried for a certain distance to reach the ambulance. Also, school children and regular people used to walk fearing being attacked by wild animals, especially elephants.

"These vehicles will travel in the routes and will function as an ambulance, public bus ferrying passengers, ration bus transporting food and ration supply and also as a school bus by ferrying school children from their homes to schools," he said.

DESIGNATED ROUTES

The services of these vehicles will be free when they operate as ambulances or school buses. Regular fares similar to State Transport fares will be levied for other transportation services, Yedukondalu added.

Three of the four vehicles will travel with a focus on MM Hills and surrounding villages while the other vehicle will operate at Ajjipura village. Four routes have been finalised and one route will connect Indiganatha-Tulsikere-MM Hills and Medagalaane.

The second route will link Padasalnatha-Palar-MM Hills and the third route will connect MM Hills–Kokkabare-Tokere-Doddaane-Martalli villages. The fourth route will link Pacchadoddi-Kanchahalli-Ajjipura villages.

WHATSAPP GROUPS FOR COMMUNICATION

In the direction of providing connectivity, WhatsApp groups have been created to spread the word about the service, timings, area and in case of emergencies. Senior officers including DCF, ACF and RFOs are included in the groups so that the service is available 24X7 in case of emergencies.

The phone numbers of 108 ambulances have been shared with the drivers of these 'Jana-Vana Sethuve' vehicles so that the needy can get medical care at hospitals. People requiring the service can either send a message to the designated WhatsApp number or can call the same number.

The vehicle service will be managed through Eco Development Committee and all vehicles are equipped with first aid kits. The drivers have been trained in providing first aid and they will strive their best to reach the injured to the hospitals.■

WORD OF THE DAY

Deportment

Pronunciation: /dɪˈpɔːtm(ə)nt/
Meaning: The way a person stands and walks, particularly as an element of etiquette, a person's behaviour or manners.
Origin: Deportment evolved from the verb deport, meaning "to behave especially in accord with a code," which in turn came to us through Middle French from Latin deportare, meaning "to carry away." (You may also know deport as a verb meaning "to send out of the country"; that sense is newer and is derived directly from Latin deportare.) Deportment can simply refer to one's demeanor, or it can refer to behavior formed by breeding or training and often conforming to conventional rules of propriety: "Are you not gratified that I am so rapidly gaining correct ideas of female propriety and sedate deportment?" wrote 17-year-old Emily Dickinson to her brother Austin.
Example: The new students were instructed in proper dress & deportment.

THE ODD WORD

Dactyloid

Like or resembling a finger.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Dish fit for the Gods

Meaning: This refers to food that is of an exemplary quality. It literally means what it says, that is, the food is so good that it is good enough to be served to a God. It also refers to offerings that may not necessarily be food but the phrase is seldom used in that context anymore.
Origin: The phrase originates in the Shakespeare's play Julius Caesar in the year 1601. Brutus when killing Caesar, tells his men to be gentle. His speech contains that although they are killing Caesar, and that he would obviously bleed, the men should not tear him apart limb to limb. Brutus asked Caesar to be carved in a manner that he would be a dish fit for the Gods! The phrase 'A dish fit for the gods' is another Shakespeare's gem. It means that a meal is of high calibre.
Example: "I ate this delicious vegetarian dish at the new restaurant. It was a dish fit for the gods." 'Fit for a king' is a similar phrase that is more commonly used nowadays.

HC quashes Kannada Sahitya Academy Award-2013

Orders formation of new sub-committee to select awardee

Bengaluru, June 22 (BNR)- The High Court (HC) of Karnataka has quashed the Kannada Sahitya Academy Award conferred on M.D. Gogeri (now late), noted scholar from Ayodhyanagara in Hubballi city, Dharwad district, for the year 2013 under Lalitha Prabandha (Harate Mathu Vinoda Sahitya Siri) category.

The Court, in its order dated June 2, 2022, while allowing the writ petition filed by Bharadwaja K. Anandatheertha, writer from Kanive village in Somwarpet taluk, Kodagu district, who sought quashing of the entire process of selection of Novel/Book for the year 2013 by the Kannada Sahitya Academy, directed the Academy to reconstitute the Sub-Committee in accordance with the Academy bye-laws to assess the books of Bharadwaja Anandatheertha and as well as M.D. Gogeri, which scored equal marks, and to recommend for awarding book prize for the year 2013.

The Academy should complete the proceedings as directed by the HC within two months from the date of the order (June 2, 2022), the HC ruling stated.

As per the petitioner (Bharadwaja K. Anandatheertha), he had submitted his book by name 'Kautukavallada Kshanagalu' when Sahithya Academy had invited books under the 'Book Prize Yojane' from writers for selection to the book award.

Gogeri Bharadwaja

'Mahamate Mallamma Mathu Ithare Prabhandagalu' of Gogeri too was in the selection list.

In the selection process, Bharadwaja and Gogeri scored equal marks (56). According to the Academy bye-law, when two writers score equal marks, the same shall be placed before a Committee of three members headed by the Chairman. The said Committee shall evaluate and select the book. A person whose book is recommended by the Sub-Committee would be presented the Sahitya Academy Award.

However, the petition contended that without there being any proceedings of the Sub-Committee headed by the Chairman and S.K. Koppa and Meti Mudiappa, who are Members of the Sahitya Academy, Gogeri was selected for the Sahitya Academy Award for the year 2013.

Since no proceedings had taken place, as required by the bye-law of the Academy, the petition argued that Gogeri would not be entitled for award by the Sahitya Academy and wanted the Academy to re-constitute the Committee and take a decision afresh.

Noting that the Sub-Committee has not recorded any proceedings and according to the records produced by the respondents as to whether the Sub-Committee had met before awarding prize to the book of Gogeri, the High Court stated that even though the Sub-Committee may not record its opinion, it should have at least drawn the proceedings for having conducted the meeting. In the absence of drawing up of proceedings, it is to be held that the Sub-Committee had not met before selecting the book of Gogeri for the award.

In the above circumstances, awarding prize to the book of Gogeri under the category Lalitha Prabandha requires to be set aside, the Court observed and directed the Academy to constitute a new Sub-Committee and examine the books submitted by Bharadwaja and Gogeri.

While advocate K.B. Muralidhar represented the petitioner, Additional Government Advocate A.R. Sharadamba argued on behalf of the respondents.
